BRILLIANT FUTURE FOR AERONAUTICS

SENATOR M'KELLAR SPEAKER AT BANQUET.

Declares America Must Do Her Share in Commerce of World.

Washington, Dec. 15.—At an aeronauts' banquet at one of the local hotels here Saturday night addresses were made by Senator McKellar, Senator McKellar, Col. Woods and Miss Egan, in which many things were predicted for the development of aircraft. Supremacy in the air by the United States was advocated by all the speakers.

Senator McKellar said he did not agree with Senator Thomas that Great Britain would continue to be mistress of the seas. He declared that he admired England immensely and was impressed with the courage of her citizens, with the tenacity of purpose displayed by them both in peace and war, and with their willingness to sacrifice life and treasure for country and humanity.

"But, as an American citizen, I will never be content until America has a navy as large, as efficient and as powerful as the navy of Great Britain," said Senator McKellar. "I mean this in no sense except that of honest and honorable rivalry in the cause of civilization. I do not want, as an American, in any sense to be the inferior of any other nation."

"Our merchant marine should be second to that of no other nation, and I agree with Senator Thomas that in the air we should be supreme. This is not a challenge to any other power. We will make benevolent use of any ascendancy in might gain. We will never disturb the peace of the world. England has in the past controlled the commerce of the world, but the time has come when America should do her share in the field."

DOCTOR RETURNS HOME

Huntville Doctor Comes Back With Captain's Bars.

Huntville, Ala., Dec. 15.—(Special.)—Dr. Frank B. Wilson, who was one of the most popular physicians in Huntville, who entered the army medical service several months ago with rank of captain, has been released from the army, and will return to his practice here. The county board of health, which sought the release of Capt. Wilson because of the shortage of physicians here, which was due to the demands of the army and the fatalities caused among local physicians by the recent epidemic of influenza.

For Colds and Grippe

Follow Doctors' Advice

Ask any physician or druggist and he will tell you that the first step in the treatment of a cold, cough or grippe should invariably be a "quick calomel purgative, preferably the nauseous calomel, called Calotabs." This alone is even sufficient to break up a severe cold or night, or cut short an attack of grippe and possibly prevent pneumonia.

One Calotab on the tongue at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea, nor the slightest interference with your eating, pleasures or work. Next morning your cold has vanished and your entire system is purified and refreshed. Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages; price 35c. Recommended and guaranteed by druggists everywhere. Price refunded if you are not delighted.—(Adv.)

RYE IN WASHINGTON

Rye Stays Over En Route to Governor's Conference.

Washington, Dec. 15.—(Special.)—Gov. Tom C. Rye is in Washington and will leave tomorrow for Annapolis, Md., where a national conference of governors is to begin its sessions. The subjects under discussion will deal with reconstruction problems in the various states. Gov. Rye is accompanied by Maj. Rudolph Smith, chairman of the Tennessee Council of National Defense, and State Fuel Administrator W. E. Myer, of Carthage.

LAUDER GRATEFUL

Scotch Comedian Thanks God for Peace on Earth.

New York, Dec. 15.—Harry Lauder, the twenty-first time yesterday, making the trip on the Mauretania, bringing his wife and a cargo of funny stories and songs. The comedian is to play a three-weeks engagement here and then go to Australia and New Zealand, and back to Africa, then back to the "land of the heather."

Wearing his Haig and Haig costume, including kilt, a fur pouch, tweed cap and a short tailed jacket, the Scotchman took Broadway by surprise when he made his way to the office of William Morris, his American agent. This engagement is the first professional tour of the singer since the death in action of his son, Capt. John Lauder. "Peace is on earth, and thank God for it," he said.

"I've got a new song and I've just been humming it to my conductor so I shouldn't forget it. It goes like this: 'Tum, tiddy um tum, and the title is going to be 'Don't Let Us Sing Any More About War; Just Let Us Sing About Love.' I tried it the other night deep down in the Mauretania among the soldier lads who were coming home and they liked it fine. Mrs. Lauder—she always travels with me, ye know—and I got about 700 of them together and sang to 'em and made 'em sing to us."

"I visited several of the rest billets of the Americans during my last trip. Once I was billeted with a New York newspaper man I had known before. His name slips away from me, but he is an officer now. His stickler brushed my clothes for me and I got to talking to the lad. He told me he had been gassed at Chateau Thierry. He also mentioned a patrol of twenty men that had gone out to the German lines. Just as they were about to enter the lines, they were captured. The next night the Americans raided the trenches opposite them and found their eighteen comrades lying there dead with their throats cut. This lad told me the entire battalion went over the next day and got 600 Germans. The boy said he got 600 killed every last one of the 600. It was the best day a sport I ever had."

The day the word of peace came to those of us who had lost kin in the war was the saddest day of all. It was now all over and he will never come back. We may think sometimes that it is a very cruel world we are living in. I have thought that many times, but God knows best, and I believe there is a God, a God of justice, who will surely be with us to the end."
